

Henry Hart

From 1976 to 2005, Henry Hart had a thriving private practice of law in Washington, D.C. and Northern Virginia. He was a member of the D.C., Virginia, and Maryland Bars, representing a diverse range of clients including national trade associations, professional societies, tax-exempt organizations, and small start-up businesses. Hart's legal expertise covered various areas including corporate law, taxation, antitrust, franchise law, employment law, real estate law, copyright and trademark law. He was instrumental in assisting clients with negotiating, drafting, and reviewing contracts.

Transitioning to a new role in 2006, Hart served as the General Counsel for the Society for Human Resource Management until 2015. As a member of the Executive Team, he provided legal counsel and strategic direction for this tax-exempt HR society boasting a membership of 300,000 and an annual budget of $120 million.

Henry A. Hart's educational background includes a Bachelor of Arts degree from Amherst College, earned cum laude in 1972, followed by a Juris Doctor degree from Georgetown Law in 1975.

In 2016, Henry A. Hart retired from active legal practice and became inactive in the D.C., Virginia, and Maryland Bars. As of this transition, he no longer practices law or provides legal advice.
