VII. Narrative - Economic, Social, and Demographic Data

The Town of Chestertown is the County's seat and its largest municipality, with approximately one quarter of the County's population. By population, Kent County is the smallest county in Maryland. The population hovers at 20,000 citizens, of which approximately 24% are age 65 years or over.¹ The workforce consists of approximately 10,000 people. The December 2015 unemployment rate was 5.3%, which was .7% higher than the overall State of Maryland rate of 4.6%.² Kent County's unemployment rates are highest during the months of January, February, and March because of seasonal employment needs during the other months.

² U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, December 2015

In Kent County 54% of students receive free and reduced meals. Five of the seven schools in Kent County qualify for Title I, Part A, a federal government program that provides financial assistance to schools with high numbers of children from low-income families. Nearly 24% of county households have incomes under $25,000.³

Agriculture, maritime enterprises and tourism have traditionally been Kent County's economic drivers. More than 78% of the land in the County, or 179,201 acres, is farmland (2012 Census), and the value of agriculture products sold in 2012 totaled $112 million. In 2014, tourism generated $56 million dollars in sales – a 33 % increase from 2010 – and accounted for some 470 jobs. Maritime interests are thriving in Kent County, which boasts nearly 350 miles of shoreline and more than 30 marinas operating on the Chesapeake Bay and the Sassafras and Chester Rivers.

The three largest employers in Kent County are based in the Town of Chestertown: Washington College, University of Maryland Shore Regional Health, and Dixon. The three business sectors represented by these employers (education, healthcare and manufacturing) provide approximately 1,000 jobs each. The Washington College campus is home to about 1,450 students from September through May, and then hosts many summer programs that bring young campers, scholars and athletes along with adult learners into the County. Dixon, the County's largest private employer, reports spending approximately one million dollars annually on goods and services in the County. Total manufacturers' shipments amounted to $360 million in 2012. Since its merger into the University of Maryland Medical System Easton-based Shore Regional Health, operates a hospital, home health care company, and a nursing and rehab center in Chestertown.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Increase Employment Base

The Economic Development offices have formed partnerships with the Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulations, the Upper Shore Workforce Investment Board, Chesapeake College, Washington College, Department of Social Services, and various organizations encourage job growth and assist in decreasing the unemployment rate. The Enterprise Zone will benefit the County and the businesses that locate within the designated Zone by providing well-paying job opportunities and income tax credits.

Businesses Retention and Expansion

Retention and expansion of our current businesses is essential to the economic health of Kent County. The Economic Development offices will assist current businesses with growth and expansion projects, providing resources and guidance, and assistance with site selection.

Increase Tax Base

Encouraging capital investment in existing and new businesses increases the property tax revenue that contributes to an enriched quality of life for all Kent County residents and businesses. Kent County is rural in nature and there are several large tracts of land located in the Enterprise Zone that would benefit from the tax incentive through development, therefore increasing the property tax revenue and creating jobs in Kent County.

Stimulate the Development and Investment in Downtown Chestertown

The Downtown area is challenged with empty storefronts and years of neglect by property owners. Tax credits on improved assessed value would encourage the capital investment in those properties to make them more attractive to potential businesses wanting to locate downtown, enabling Chestertown to more fully capitalize on the Main Street and Arts and Entertainment District designations they have achieved.

LOCAL STANDARDS

The local standard for qualification for businesses to qualify for real property tax credits in the Chestertown Kent County Enterprise Zone will be a minimum capital investment of $25,000. The local standard will ensure that the tax credits are offered to substantial projects only and will help provide clarity about the types of projects that may benefit from the program.

ADDITIONAL INCENTIVES AND INITIATIVES

Kent County re-established the Revolving Loan Fund in the FY2016 budget, and partnered with the Eastern Shore Entrepreneurship Center (ESEC) to administer the fund. The Commissioners allocated $200,000 and ESEC matched the funding to allow businesses to access $400,000 for growth and expansion.

The Town of Chestertown and Kent County are poised for growth. In July of 2015 the Kent County Commissioners demonstrated their commitment to Economic Development by re-establishing a stand-alone department to focus on Economic Development for the County and creating the position of Economic Development Coordinator.

Kent County has signed contracts with FTS Fiber to build a fiber optic broadband network throughout Kent County. FTS Fiber partners with Think Big Networks, an Internet Service Provider, based on cutting edge technologies for large bandwidth. Together Team FTS, FTS Fiber and Think Big Networks, anticipate delivering 1GB service to 99.9% of the business and residents in the county that request service.

The Commissioners approved giving the Kent County Public School System $1.6 million above the State's Maintenance of Effort requirement for FY2017, to avoid consolidation of the County's five elementary schools and to provide teachers with raises that close the pay gap between Kent and the surrounding counties.

In the summer of 2015, the Town of Chestertown received a designation for a Maryland Arts & Entertainment District. In October 2015, the Town hired an Economic Development & Marketing Coordinator to manage the Arts & Entertainment District and the Main Street program, which was first awarded in 2009.

The Town of Chestertown stepped up in 2012 to purchase the only Marina within its limits because leaders wanted to ensure the property would continue to provide public access to the Chester River. The Marina is in desperate need of repair and revitalization after many years of deferred maintenance in the private sector. The improved Marina will stimulate the downtown economy and provide an improved gateway into the County and its 700-plus businesses. The total project cost is more than $5 million, and Chestertown is moving forward with dredging in anticipation of public and private support. Chestertown has an eclectic selection of businesses downtown, including a new distillery, a wine and cheese lounge, art studios, a music center, consignment shops, an artisanal bakery, gift shops, and three clothing stores.

EDUCATIONAL AND TRAINING OPPORTUNITES

Workforce readiness and development are a priority for the Kent County Economic Development office. There are many partners in assuring our workforce is ready to work, and trained to meet the needs of businesses today and into the future. Initiatives include "Innovation Internships" with Washington College and partnerships with Kent County High Schools' CTE programs; the Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation; the Upper Shore Workforce Investment Board; Chesapeake College; the Department of Social Services, etc. Dialogue and an open exchange of information will assist in planning for the future needs of the business community.

MANAGEMENT PLAN

The Chestertown Kent County Enterprise Zone will be administered by the Town and County Economic Development Offices. The Economic Development Offices will be responsible for all administrative functions related to the enterprise zone, including;

- Processing businesses' applications to claim tax credits under the program.
- Coordinating documentation and approval of tax credits with the County tax office.
- Answering questions about the program and assisting businesses with their applications.
- Submitting annual reports to the Maryland Department of Commerce.

MARKETING

The Chestertown Kent County Enterprise Zone will be promoted by the Town and County Economic Development Offices.

PROPOSED CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS WITHIN THE ENTERPRISE ZONE

Dixon is actively exploring the possibility of expanding in Chestertown. The possible investment currently being discussed is approximately $50 million over the next six to ten years. The current project's initial phase would include a warehouse/distribution facility for Dixon. The project may also include investment for a business campus to attract other businesses and industries to the area.

Fish Whistle is currently proposing a $300,000 to $700,000 project to upgrade the existing restaurant located at 98 Cannon Street. Fish Whistle is the only waterfront restaurant in Chestertown. The plans include, but are not limited to, the construction of a large out-door deck, relocation of air handlers, geothermal heating and cooling, repaving of the parking lot, landscaping, re-flooring of the interior of the building, re-construction of the kitchen, painting of the entire interior, and construction of an additional bathroom. The property owner has contracted with an engineer and proposed site plans have been produced.

There is currently a prime undeveloped lot located in the 300 block of S. Cross Street with potential for the owner to invest $500,000 to $800,000 in a new building for commercial use.

Washington College currently owns the 70-acre farm surrounding Stepne Major. The College and KRM Development Company, which owns Stepne Manor and other properties contiguous to Stepne Farm, recently commissioned a conceptual study of a potential commercial and residential development of their property. The study produced a conceptual development plan that would extend the existing grid in the Chestertown Historic District south of Cross Street to Radcliffe Creek with a layout that would add up to 200 single-family houses that would carefully replicate the character in the Historic District. The total selling price of the houses that could be developed on this property is projected to be around $75 million.

Washington College currently owns a 13.029 acre parcel of undeveloped land located on the corner of Morgnec Road and MD213. The property is zoned RB Professional Office and the Enterprise Zone designation will enhance the appeal for development of a commercial endeavor in this prime location.

VIII. Size Justification

The Town of Chestertown and Kent County are very rural in nature and properties tend to be large and quite spread out. It is critically important to include properties in our downtown area as well as our businesses located on the outskirts of the Town borders. The proposed area for the Chestertown Kent County Enterprise Zone consists of properties located in the Town of Chestertown and properties contiguous to the Town and located in Kent County. The designation of an Enterprise Zone will help attract businesses to areas designated for growth and expansion. Chestertown's Historic District contains some 18th century buildings that are in desperate need of improvement after many years of owner neglect. In addition to attracting new businesses to Kent County, The Enterprise Zone can spark capital investment in these properties that need revitalization.

Kent County is currently facing the challenges of declining enrollment in our public schools, and changes in healthcare that threaten the inpatient services provided at our local hospital. It remains a strong draw for residents who enjoy the natural beauty of the area, the well preserved Colonial architecture and the charm of Chestertown, the proud Chesapeake Bay boating and fishing culture of Rock Hall, and the intellectual and cultural offerings of Washington College. Founded in 1782, Washington College is the nation's tenth oldest liberal arts college. Increased employment opportunities would entice more of Washington College's graduates to remain in Kent County.

The Enterprise Zone designation would provide Kent County and the Town of Chestertown with incentives to help existing employers expand their businesses, and would be a valuable tool for attracting new businesses. An Enterprise Zone designation gives Kent County additional means to compete with nearby Delaware in attracting and retaining businesses.

PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing was held today at 6:11 p.m. in the County Commissioners' Hearing Room, County Government Center, 400 High Street, Chestertown, MD, for the purpose of discussing the DRAFT Chestertown Kent County Enterprise Zone Application.

County Commissioners, William W. Pickrum, Ronald H. Fithian and William A. Short were in attendance as well as Shelley Herman, County Administrator and Jamie Williams, Coordinator, Economic Development. Chestertown Town Council Members, Liz Gross, Linda Kuiper, Sam Shoge, and Marty Stetson as well as Kay MacIntosh, Economic Development and Marketing Coordinator, were also in attendance.

Commissioner Pickrum read the notice of public hearing into record and stated that copies of the DRAFT Chestertown Kent County Enterprise Zone Application were made available to the public at the following locations: the County's website at <http://www.kentcounty.com/economic-development>, the Economic Development Office, 400 High Street, Chestertown and at the Town of Chestertown, 118 North Cross Street, Chestertown, MD.

Commissioner Pickrum read the rules for the public hearing into record. Ms. Williams also requested the audience to sign the attendance sheet which will be included with the application to the Maryland Department of Commerce.

Ms. Williams gave an overview of the Enterprise Zone Designation. The Enterprise Zone program provides real property tax credits for businesses and state income tax credits for employees located in a Maryland Enterprise Zone in return for job creation and investments. Because there are properties in parts of the County and the Town in the designated Enterprise Zone, the County and Town must jointly apply for the Enterprise Zone designation. Ms. Williams discussed the requirements for an Enterprise Zone designation. Based on recent averages, Kent County and the Town of Chestertown would qualify based on poverty level incomes at least 1.25 times the national average. The Town and County must act quickly, timing is crucial to the application. Creating an Enterprise Zone does not change or otherwise affect local zoning control, regulations, and ordinances. Ms. Williams stated that an Enterprise Zone program is a valuable incentive to promote job creation and capital investment within the existing business community and is an essential tool to position Kent County to compete with surrounding jurisdictions to attract new businesses to our communities. Commissioner Pickrum stated that he believes the Enterprise Zone will make a more "level playing field" for Kent County against the surrounding jurisdictions.

Commissioner Short inquired as to whether or not this program goes far enough and whether or not other municipalities can be captured. Ms. Williams stated that at this time no, due to the criteria requirements to qualify as an Enterprise Zone. Ms. Williams will look at the demographics in the future.

Commissioner Pickrum invited comments and questions from the audience.

Public Hearing Minutes – Enterprise Zone Application

Jim Luff, Chair, Economic Development Commission, testified that the Commission wholeheartedly supports the application. The Enterprise Zone designation will attract businesses and allow current businesses to expand. Mr. Luff described the Enterprise Zone as a “tool in the toolbox” in order to expand the economy.

Paula Reeder, Associate Broker, Champion Realty, stated that other counties have taken advantage of these incentives to grow their economy. The Enterprise Zone designation has been very effective in Garrett County. Ms. Reeder encouraged the Town of Chestertown and the County to seek abilities to qualify other areas of the County for similar benefit.

Doug Sassi, Doug Sassi Pottery, spoke in support of the application and hopes that it will expand to Still Pond.

Margie Elsberg, Communications Coordinator, Save the Hospital Committee, spoke in support of the application and stated that she believes that once the hospital begins to grow and thrive that the designation will energize that growth.

Doris Mason, Executive Director, Upper Shore Regional Council, reiterated previous testimony in support of the application. The Enterprise Zone designation would put the Town and County in a position to attract new businesses and would allow local control of zoning to remain. Ms. Mason described the Enterprise Zone designation as a “window of opportunity” and that the Town and County should take advantage of the designation while it is able.

Commissioner Short stated that fifty percent of something is better than fifty percent of nothing and believes this will have a positive impact on Kent County.

Mr. Stetson stated that the Enterprise Zone designation would allow the Town and County to compete with surrounding counties. Ms. Kuiper commended Ms. Williams and Ms. MacIntosh and stated that they have been the biggest asset to this project.

Written comments will be accepted in the County Commissioners’ Office until Friday, April 1, 2016, at 12:00 p.m.

The hearing was taped for reference and the Commissioners adjourned the public hearing at 6:38 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Sondra M. Blackiston, Clerk
