FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chestertown, MD
4.3.2020

As the COVID-19 situation progresses, plans are currently being made to respond to the potential surge of patients within Kent County and across the Mid-Shore. Experts from our local health departments, hospitals, emergency managers and state agencies have been working together to identify locations that could potentially serve as sites to help handle a surge in patient care needs. There are many elements that need to be factored into possible locations. At present, these plans are still taking shape and no sites have been identified definitively. We will be sure to make the community aware of these plans once they are in place. For questions, please call Kent County Office of Emergency Services at 443.282.6480.
